

Year 10 Curriculum Overview

Year 10 will commence with a focus on GCSE English Language paper 1, question 5 creative writing skills for two weeks. This is to allow pupils to have an introduction to the English Language GCSE exam assessments and to revisit their creative writing skills. Pupils will then complete a creative writing assessment in the first two weeks and receive feedback on this assessment, so they have a benchmark they can continue to build upon during their GCSE journey. Pupils will then move onto English Literature where they will develop an understanding and the skills necessary to read texts critically and analytically. These skills will be developed by exploring the Power and Conflict AQA poetry anthology. Pupils will be taught how to successfully analyse poetry, make links across the poetry collection and how to structure an essay comparing two poems. In the second autumn term pupils will study A Christmas Carol, or Strange Case of Dr Jekyll and Mr Hyde, where they will further develop their analytical and essay writing skills. In January pupils will then begin working on English Language paper 1. This scheme of work will explore a range of fictional extracts using past exam papers and creative writing. Pupils will then study either Macbeth or Romeo and Juliet where they will explore the entirety of the play to develop an appreciation of the themes and issues that underpin the play. This Shakespeare English Literature unit will again revisit essay writing skills to equip pupils to successfully answer exam-style questions in depth. In the final summer term, pupils will explore a range of unseen poetry, including how to compare two unseen poems. Pupils will then continue their study of the remainder of the Power and Conflict AQA poetry anthology to further consolidate their skills and be able to make thematic-based links across the poems. Pupils will also revisit English Language Paper 1 to prepare for their final mock as this will be the focus point of their final exam. Finally, pupils will revisit An Inspector Calls, which they covered in year 9 to revise plot and themes.

By the end of year 10, pupils will have covered all of the texts they will be assessed on for English Literature exam, so that they are in a position to begin revising the content over the summer holidays before commencing year 11. They will have covered 50% of the content for English Language.
